DEDICATION

This book goes to press in the Marian Year . . . The whole Catholic world is commemorating the centenary of the definition by Pope Pius IX of the Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Virgin Mary. . . . It was on December 8, 1854 that Pius IX solemnly defined: ". . the doctrine which declares that the Blessed Virgin Mary, in the first instant of her conception. . was preserved from all stain of original sin. . . is a doctrine revealed by God." . . . Four years later, confirmation of the definition came from Heaven itself. . . In 1858, the Blessed Virgin Mary appeared to St. Bernadette at Lourdes. . When questioned concerning her identity, the Blessed Mother replied: "I am the Immaculate Conception." . . . Our present Holy Father, Pope Pius XII, in proclaiming the Marian Year, said: "When our predecessor defined the doctrine of the Immaculate Conception . . he was merely carefully conserving and sanctioning with his authority the teaching of the whole Church from its earliest days right down through the centuries. . . . (the Blessed Mother) obtained this singular privilege, never granted to anyone else, because she was raised to the dignity of Mother of God. . . it was by virtue of Christ's merits that she was preserved by God immune from all stain of originial sin. . . Non-Catholics. . are. . . mistaken when they find fault with. . . our devotion to the Virgin Mother of God, as if it took something from the worship due to God alone and to Jesus Christ. The contrary is true, because any honor and veneration we may give to Our Heavenly Mother. . . redounds to the glory of her Divine Son. . because all graces and all gifts, even the highest, flow from Him as from their primary source. . . . . this centenary celebration should. . serve to revive Catholic faith and earnest devotion to the Mother of God in the souls of all. . . the commemoration of the mystery of the Most Holy Virgin conceived immaculate and immune from all stain of original sin, should urge us to that innocence and integrity of life which flees from and abhors even the slightest stain of sin. . . "

In the spirit of the Marian Year, we, the students of Loyola University of the South, dedicate this 1953-54 annual to Mary, the Immaculate Mother of God.

Loyola Forum

REV. JOHN TOOMEY, S.J.
Forum Director

The Loyola Forum, under the direction of Father John Toomey, S.J., has again succeeded in entertaining and educating Loyola students and friends for the eleventh straight year.

Celebrities featured in the past include Cardinal Spellman; Evelyn Waugh, famous English author; Clare Boothe Luce; Fulton Oursler; Louis Budenz and Elizabeth Bentley, former Communists; Father Keller, author and founder of the Christophers; and Frank Fay, star of "Harvey."

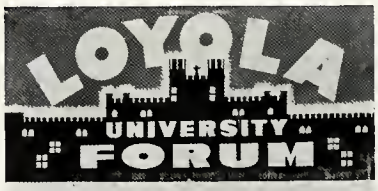
This year's speakers were no less famous than those in the past. Among them was the annual favorite, Bishop Sheen, who has appeared on The Forum every year since 1944.

DR. ROY NICHOLS

Dr. Roy Nichols

Dr. Roy Franklin Nichols, dean of the University of Pennsylvania graduate school and noted historian, opened the 1953-54 Forum. He is author of the Pulitzer Prize-winning book, "The Disruption of American Democracy."

Fr. Charles Chapman, S.J., chairman of the department of history, listens in while Fr. Toomey and Dr. Nichols discuss Louisiana History.



Presents

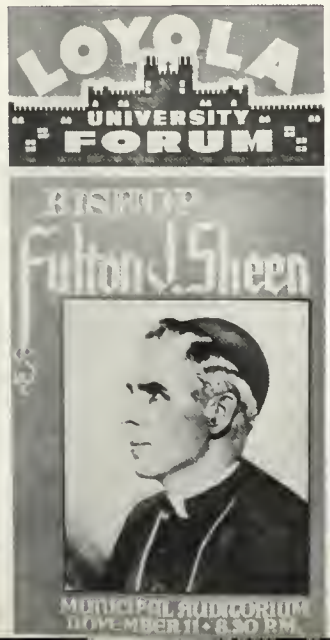
Bishop Fulton J. Sheen

Bishop Fultan J. Sheen was the secand speaker on the Forum. The New York prelate, who has talked on the Forum ten times, addressed a capacity audience of over 3,000 peaple. His speech was entitled "Dry Martyrs," which discussed martyrs af ancient Rome and those of today in Communist dominated countries.

Bishop Sheen is famed for the many notables he has converted to Catholicism. Amang thase are Louis Budenz, confessed ex-Communist, Henry Ford II, and Clare Boothe Luce, US ambassador to Italy.



Dublin Players

The Dublin Players' productions of "Pygmalion" and "Shadow and Substance" formed the third and fourth Forums.

Founded in Ireland in 1947, The Dublin Players are composed of outstanding talent from Ireland's Abbey and Gate Theaters and the Old Vic in London.

Internationally renowned for their dramatic productions, the group is headed by Ronald Ibbs, formerly of the Old Vic Company in London and leading man at Lord Longford's Gate Theater in Dublin, Ireland, for the past seven years.

Maurine Halligan and Ronald Ibbs, founders and directors of The Dublin Players, check over the settings.

General Mark Clark

General Mark Clark, former Commander-in-Chief of the Far Eastern Command and present president of The Citadel, The Military College of South Carolina, spoke on the last Forum.

The retired general was the American representative at the peace talks in Korea and signed the armistice July 27, 1953. He retired from the Army at his own request after the Korean armistice.

Fr. Toomey and General Mark Clark discuss world affairs before the Forum.

WWL

"Time Out For Listening" provides 15 minutes of musical entertainment by the Dane West Trio and popular singers.

Operating since 1922, WWL, is a pioneer among radio stations now broadcasting in New Orleans.

From its small beginning in the Physics workroom, WWL has developed into a 50,000 watt clear-channel station. Under the management of Howard Summerville, it is now affiliated with the Columbia Broadcasting System and broadcasts from studios in the Roosevelt Hotel.

Fr. Louis Soniat, S.J., celebrated the fourteenth anniversary this year of his "Thought For A Day" program.

Mr. Alfred M. Farrell, moderator; Mr. Roy Trahan, recipient of "Who's Cripple," a national award; Dr. Ernest Wilbur, chief of corrective therapy at the Veterans Hospital; Mrs. Jacqueline Leonard, vice-president of the New Orleans School Board; and Mr. De Van D. Daggett, professor of law, discuss the topic: "So You're Crippled—Asset or Liability?" on "Faculty Panel," a weekly half-hour program.

One of the WWL engineers waits for the signal.

"Major In Music," now in its second year, is a weekly quarter-hour program, featuring students majoring in music and faculty members of the College of Music.

Talent from any department in the University is featured on "Campus Capers" a 15 minute musical variety show.

Paul Emenes, director of the Campus Capers Band, heard weekly on WWL.

The Theresa Kelly Trio is featured on their own weekly, 15 minute program. Theresa sings and plays the piano, Charlie Suhor is the drummer, and Louis Pendarvis plays bass.

Charlie Suhor, Talent Night winner, is heard weekly on Loyola's many radio shows.

Fr. Anthony C. O'Flynn, athletic director, is interviewed by Bill Brengle.

Dr. Raymond Witte, discusses the program presented by the Evening Division.

Talent Night

In the Municipal Auditorium, on December 4, 1953, the Blue Key National Honor Fraternity presented its annual Talent Night production before an audience of approximately 2500. The performance was one of the most entertaining in the sixteen years of Blue Key history. Charles Suhor, A&S drummer, was awarded the first place trophy for a rendition of his originol composition, "Hum Drums."

Johnny Paquette, singing "Yours Is My Heart Alone," received second place honors in the individual competition, while Ann Delery's interpretation of "You Are Love" won her third place.

In the skit division, the College of Music's entry entitled: "Snow Red and the Seven Bolsheviks," won first place. Olga Seiferth and Betty Henderson, med-tech freshmen, made up the "Melduets." Their rendition of "Glow Worm" rated top honors in the group competition.

The top three soloists for the 1954 Blue Key Talent Night show were, from left to right, Charlie Suhor, first place; Ann Delery, third place; and Johnny Paquette, second place.

Part of the crowd that packed Municipal Auditorium to see the show.

Claude Boudreaux, 1953 Talent Night winner, made a guest appearance in this year's show.

Campus Capers, under the direction of Paul Emenes, opened the show with their version of the Mambo.

Olga Seiferth and Betty Henderson, two med-techs singing as "The Melduets," copped first place in group competition.

Dental school came in second in skit competition with their home-spun version of "Scholarships."

Placing third in skit competition was PKE's "This Is Your Wife," a take-off on a well-known television program.

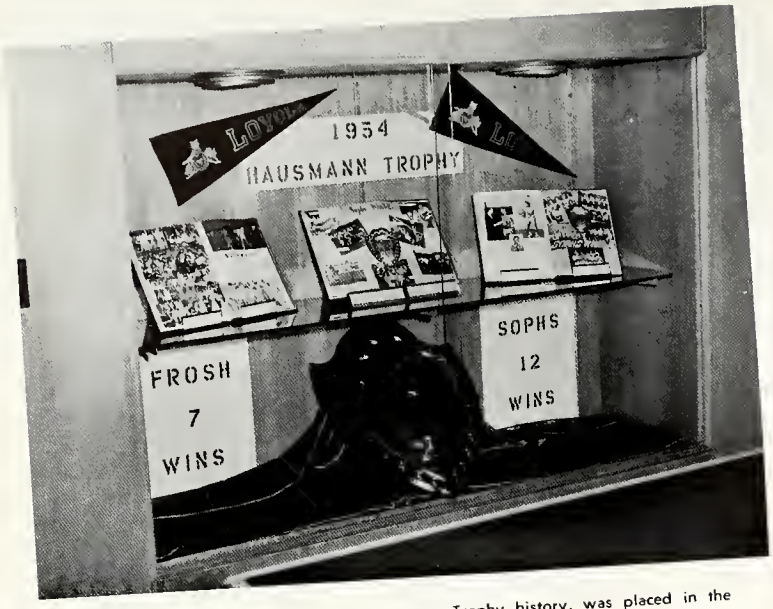
Hausmann Trophy



This display, giving some of the Hausmann Trophy history, was placed in the library by the Student Council during the week of the event.

The Hausmann Trophy competition is one of the longest standing traditions on the campus. Now in its 27th year, the annual rivalry between the freshmen and sophomores was inaugurated by Gabriel Hausmann of Hausmann's Jewelers. In 1927 he donated an award in the form of a plaque to the class winning the majority of a set number of scholastic and athletic events.

This year the freshmen won the plaque for the first time in three years, by defeating the second classmen in basketball, tug-o-war and debating.

The sophomores batted out an 8-3 victory over the freshmen in softball.

Tom Rayer looks on as sophomores Pete Duffy and Paul Antinori and freshmen Rene Bonee and Shirley Trusty prepare for the debate which the freshmen won.

The freshmen team congratulates the sophomores on their victory in the tennis doubles matches.

Campus Capers

Campus Capers is a musical variety group featuring talent from any department in the University. A training ground for Loyola talent, the group went on many tours this year and also played at Blue Key Talent Night, the Jambalaya party, and several of the cafeteria dances.

Campus Capers band members take time out from practice to have their picture taken.

Institute of Industrial Relations

Father Louis Twomey, S.J., Institute Director

The purpose of the Institute of Industrial Relations is to train management and labor to work together in the spirit of mutual cooperation, good faith and fair deoling. To accomplish this the Institute offers, in two sessions each year of ten consecutive weeks, a series of non-credit courses, including: Parliamentary Procedure, Labor Law, Credit Unions, and Urban-Rural Relations.

Under the direction of Father Louis J. Twomey, S.J., the Institute is open not only to managers and workers but also to all actively interested in employer-employee relations.

Father Donnelly, University president, presents certificates.

Father Donnelly addresses the Institute.

Inquiry Panel

The Inquiry Panel, serving as a Catholic liaison society between the University and the people of New Orleans, provides a series of lectures by the Theology Department on Tuesday and Thursday nights during the scholastic year.

Under the direction of Father Harold Cooper, S.J., since 1951, the panel discussions are designed, to explain strictly from an informational point of view, the doctrines, the moral and ethical teachings and the devotions of the Catholic Church to Catholic and non-Catholic alike.

Father Harold Cooper, S.J., is the Inquiry Panel director.

Father Cooper discusses a question from "A Catechism for Inquirers" with members of the Panel audience.

Father Cooper explains the use of the rosary and the chalice.

Lectures were held in the Student Lounge on Tuesday and Thursday nights during the scholastic year.

Thespians

"And that's why Pilate was a man who couldn't make up his mind!"

Thespians climaxed their usual year of dramatic successes with a week run of "Pilate," directar Leo Zinser's original Passion Play.

Elaborating on its policy of bringing select pieces of classical and modern drama to New Orleans audiences, the group presented such plays as Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice" and Thorton Wilder's "Our Town."

"Are you sure you know your lines, Al?"

Three of the nine girls at the sight of the hidden corpse.

Lorenzo (Teddy Pfister) marvels at Portia's (Mickey Glanker) rendition of the court scene from the "Merchant of Venice."

Present

Glaucus (Ted Pfister) describes Christ's crucifixion to Pilate (Don Barnett) and Procla (Anna Copponex) in a scene from "Pilate."

And all of them kept repeating—"suffered under Pontius Pilate—passus et sepultus est."

A speculative glance is cast by lead, Ted Pfister, at the modern stage setting of "Our Town."

"Now which one will I wear," ask the three princes in the "Merchant of Venice."

Shotput (Donnell Dodd) aims while Mary Arroyo and Rosemary Sheppard wonder who the victim will be in "Nine Girls."

"You were wonderful, Beth," says Myra Monahan to "Our Town" lead, Beth Ann Rebaudo, as cast members, George Hoag and Lizzie Ainsworth, look on.

Father Butt's Testimonial

Loyola faculty members and friends sign the scroll that was presented to Father Butt during the program.

Friends and former students congratulate Father Butt.

Father Joseph Butt, S.J., who this year celebrated his 25th year as a member of the Loyola faculty, is interviewed by radio station WWL during the Testimonial celebration.

Over 800 faculty members, friends and students attended the testimonial banquet at the Jung Hotel.

Night at Loyola

Gertrude Braden, Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia sweetheart, was presented at "Night at Loyola."

Campus Capers presented a skit giving the history of jazz.

Phi Mu Alpha members await the presentation of the sweetheart.

Guest soloists on the program were, from left to right: Harry Theard, 1952 Talent Night winner; Rosemary Rotolo, 1953 regional winner of the Metropolitan Opera auditions; Norman Treigle, presently singing with the New York City Opera Company; and Claude Boudreaux, 1953 Talent Night winner.

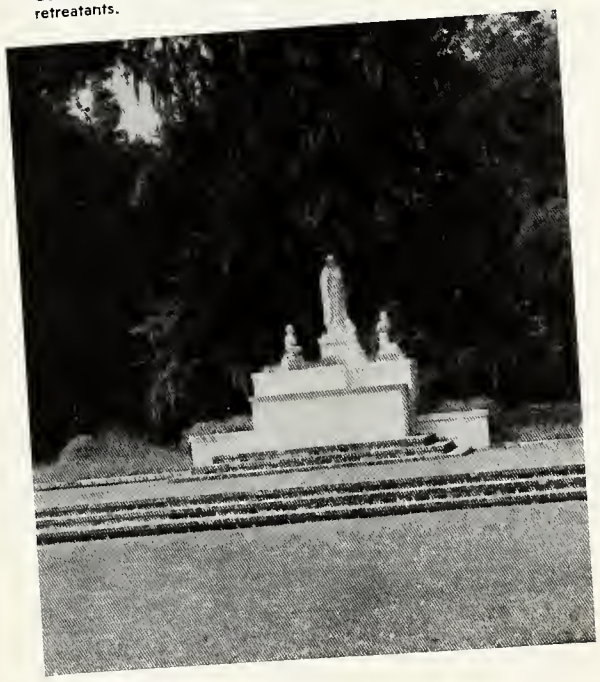
Manresa

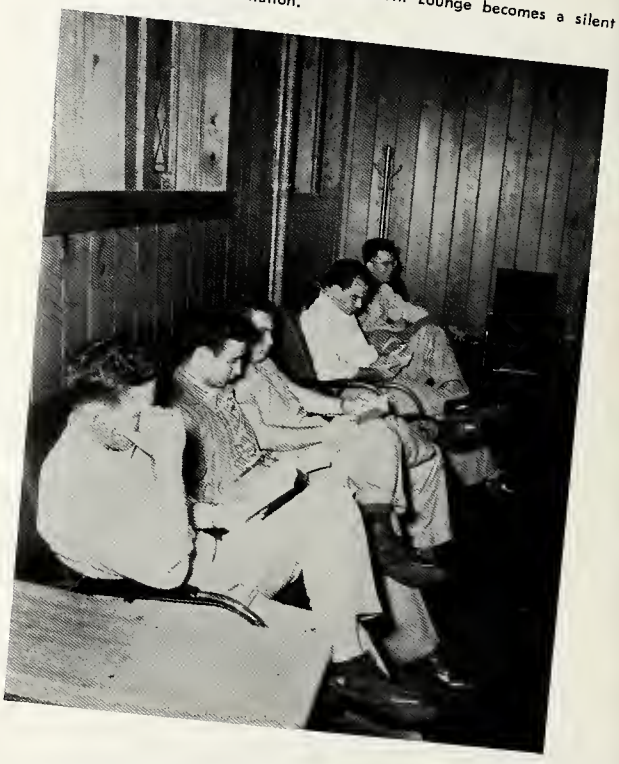
Student Retreats

Once a year for every student in the University there come days of peace and silent prayer. The spiritually inspiring scenes of Manresa, Convent of the Most Holy Sacrament at Lafayette, and the Loyola Campus are well known to the many groups of Loyolans making their annual retreats. Studies and activities are put aside and the students begin a three-day visit with God.

Our Lady of Fatima's image brings inspiration and hope to Manresa retreatants.



On retreat week-ends the campus Student Lounge becomes a silent hall of prayer and meditation.



Happy coeds accompanied by the Rev. Thomas Maher, S.J., are off to Lafayette for a restful and spiritual week-end.

Off to Lafayette at last in the Aloysius Bus.

LSL Award

The LSL Award is presented annually to the outstanding Loyola co-ed who best exemplifies the traits of loyalty, school spirit, service and leadership.

This year, Anna Copponex, music senior, merited the award. A charter member of Cardinal Key, Anna served as vice-president of the organization in 1953 and as president in 1954. She was also Sodality prefect in 1953 and vice-prefect in 1954.

A winner of the Dr. Bonomo Award for the best acting of 1950-51, and vice-president of Thespians from 1951 to 1953, Anna was hailed as "Miss Thespian" by Leo C. Zinser at this year's banquet.

Anna was also a member of the University Band, the University Chorus, the University Orchestra, Campus Capers, Phi Beta, the Maroon, IOC, and a Who's Who selectee in 1953.

Moon leaves Law School classes to teach BA accounting.

Charles Bailey Award

The Charles H. Bailey Trophy is presented annually to the outstanding student leader on the campus. Some of the qualifications for the award are: scholastic ability, school spirit, leadership and loyalty to Loyola University.

This year's recipient is Maurice "Moon" Landrieu, law senior. He is a four-letterman in baseball and won the D. H. Holmes Student-Athlete Award in 1951. He also won the Louisiana Certified Public Accountant's Award and was president of SLE in 1952.

After entering law school in 1952, "Moon" was on the winning team in the Freshman Moot Court Competition. He served as a Lieutenant Colonel in the ROTC and won the American Legion Medal in 1953.

During the past year, he was president of Law School, the Student Council, NFCCS, and IOC. He was vice-prefect of the Sodality, and was a member of the St. Thomas More Law Club, the "L" Club, ASN, Blue Key, and Who's Who.

The work done by the 1953-54 Student Council illustrates the advantage of having a strong student government in a university. Composed of twenty-seven members from the six colleges and the Evening Division, this year's Council erased all doubt of whether or not student government would be successful on a Jesuit campus.

This year's Council worked in close harmony with the student body for the betterment of Loyola, and left behind it a record of achievements in numerous activities.

The Freshman Orientation Program, sponsored by the Council in conjunction with the Faculty, marked the beginning of the year's activities. This program was concluded with the annual Freshman Hop.

The Jambalaya Party, the first of its kind held at Loyola, introduced newcomers to campus life. At this informal get-together, the students danced, sang, competed in contests, and even selected the best "Singing Fraternity."

The Council realized the need of more campus activity. In an effort to meet this need, it sponsored a series of week-end movies and dances.

Sponsoring the traditional yearly events, the Council gave the Hausmann Trophy competition a very successful and well rounded program. Annual socials, such as the Sophomore Cotillion, and the Junior-Senior Prom, met with student approval and enthusiastic participation.

A great deal of work was also done within the Council this year. Improving and strengthening its constitution, the Council worked in close contact with the organizations through the I.O.C. by means of a refiling process. From these meetings, the Council drew up new by-laws.

This is only a brief sketch of the work done by this year's Council. The Wolf salutes the 1953-54 Student Council for a job well done and encourages next year's Council to pick up and continue the fine work done this year.

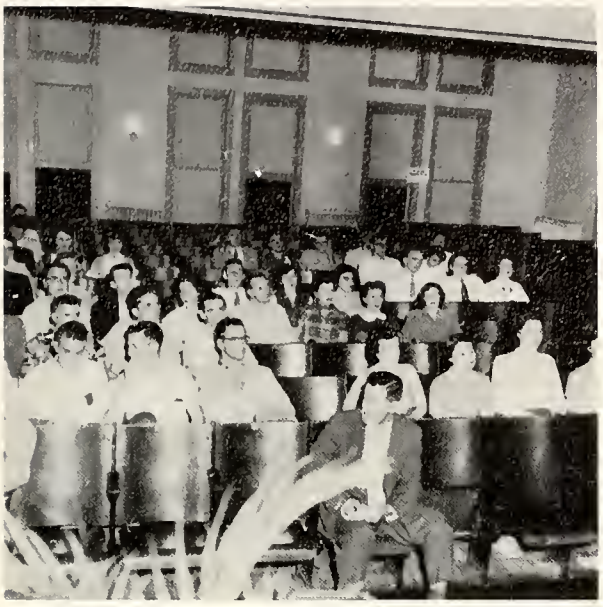
Inter-Organizational Council



Organization presidents assembled for the first IOC meeting of the year.

The Inter-Organizational Council furnishes a means of expression for student organizations regarding school activities and acts as a liaison between the organizations and the Student Council.

The president of each organization is automatically a member and must represent his group at all meetings. These meetings are held at the beginning of each semester, and additional ones at the discretion of the Student Council.

A newcomer to the Wolf and to the Loyola campus is the Evening Division Student Committee. Established to bring the students and faculty closer together, and to promote friendship and good will among the students, this group has been quite active. Through its endeavors, the Evening Division was granted representation on the Student Council, and on the 1953-54 Homecoming and Campus Courts. In the recent Field House Fund Drive, the evening students through personal contributions and business contacts raised a substantial sum.

The Wolf salutes the Evening Division Student Committee.

Alpha Pi Omicron, Loyola's service fraternity, was founded in 1938. The purpose of this fraternity is to serve the University, its faculty, its student body and the community through development of the virtues of love, loyalty, leadership, and generosity in its members. Publication and distribution of the Student Directory is the largest undertaking of APO. Other activities include ushering at Forums, Student Masses, Convocations and Graduations, and assisting at University functions such as the Jambalaya Party, and Frosh Orientation programs.

Treasurer	OLA MORGAN

Outstanding pharmacists receive APhA book awards.

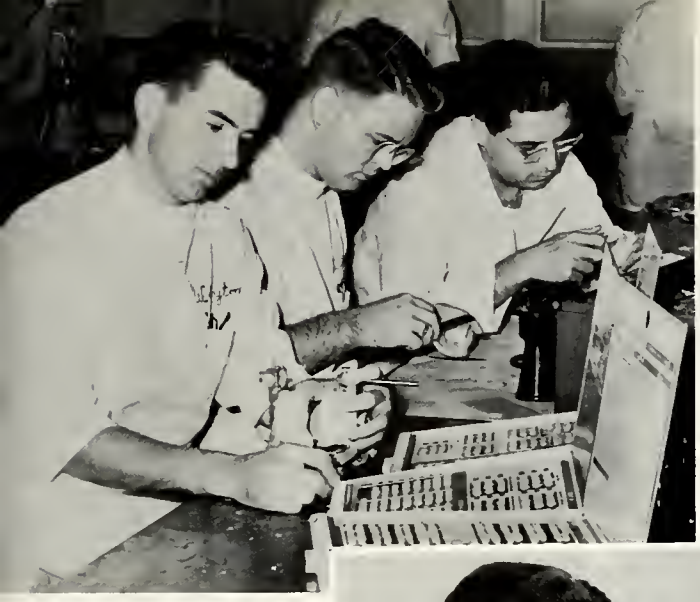
SAMUEL MAYES
President

National Pharmacy Week exhibits, annual campus-wide dance, awards to the outstanding pharmacy students and the annual banquet are only a few of the organization's yearly activities.

Founded to promote professional interest in pharmacy and stimulate efficiency in its operations, it also keeps members abreast of the most recent pharmaceutical developments.

Senior members of APhA were guests of Parke Davis Home Laboratories in Detroit, Michigan.

Junior American Dental Association



Members prepare materials for Jr. ADA Clinic.

President	JAMES CASSIDY
Vice-President	DOUGLAS KELLER
Secretary	PAUL BRUNO
Treasurer	WILLIAM HARVEY

The Junior American Dental Association has become the main organ of activity in the School of Dentistry.

During the past year the organization financed and built the Dental Student's Lounge, complete with TV set.

Participation in Talent Night's skit competition "Back the Pack" projects, and several dances rounded out the year's activities for the group.

JAMES CASSIDY
President

Fr. Donnelly chats with Jim Cassidy, president of the Jr. ADA in the newly constructed dental lounge. Others in picture are from left to right: James Buatt, Paul Bruno, Harry Leveque, and Donald Landry.

"In order to cultivate a high esteem for, and a deep knowledge of the truth, together with the power of eloquence with which the truth might be defended, through a development of the faculty of discussing with fluency and with ease, problems of paramount importance to the religious, ethicol, political and social lives of the members, together with ony other problem in keeping with the same profound purpose, this society was founded."

This is the purpose of the E. D. White Debating Society as stated in its charter. This year the varsity team debated West Point.

The Society has been on the Loyola campus for 29 years and during that time has become one of the most distinguished organizations.

Through active participation in all events that concern New Orleans international trade, this club has continually offered to students a means of contact, social as well as business, with the men connected with the port.

The organization was founded for the purpose of helping students interested in shipping, export and import, the opportunity of meeting men who know that field.

Participation in the Mississippi Valley World Trade Conference, Pan American Day celebration, sponsorship of National Maritime Week on the campus and boat tours on the river and lake made up a few of the year's activities.

Thespians opened the season this year with Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice." The next production was Wilder's "Our Town" with Beth Ann Rebaudo, Ted Pfister, and George Hoag in the leading roles.

During Holy Week, "Pilate," written and directed by Lea C. Zinser, was presented for the third consecutive year. Don Barnett played the title role.

The Junior Thespians, a group of freshmen who are also members of Thespians, put on their own production of "Nine Girls," directed by Melvin Graziano.

The Student Directory was first published by a Sophomore Dental student, Harvey Paret. The Sodality Co-operative Union assumed the responsibility of publication in 1939. Alpha Pi Omicron edited the Directory for the Union in 1942. The Directory was not published in 1943 because of the wor. With the assistance of Sigma Alpha Kappa in 1944, A.P.O. published its first Directory. The following year the book was entirely the wark of A.P.O. and has been such since that time. This, the seventeenth editon of the Loyola Student Directory, represents publication under the administrations of five University presidents. It symbolizes the spirit of A.P.O.— "to serve the University through love, loyalty, leadership and generosity."

Founded in April, 1936, the Pharmacy Journal publishes Alumni news items, general information of interest to both pharmacists and future pharmacists. The Journal was continuously published three times a year until June, 1951, when the publication was discontinued because of the accelerated program. The Journal made its comeback to the campus April last, thanks to the efforts of the faculty and students on the editorial staff.

TOM HAGGERTY

Four years ago, Loyola began its drive towards big-time basketball fame. The University officials realized the necessity of having one of the best coaches in the country if they were to achieve this ambition. They found the man they were looking for at another Jesuit school — Loyola of Chicago — where Tom Haggerty was head mentor.

It was a long term contract that brought Haggerty to Loyola. He came with many fine seasons of coaching behind him. He was not expected to turn in a championship team in his first year, or in his second one either. However, it is pleasant to note that his first two years were winning years.

In his second season, he put pressure on the team by pitting it against the better quintets from the North. The Dayton Flyers, who were ranked very high nationally that year, just barely squeezed by with a win of only four points. This was only one of the many games in which Coach Haggerty and his boys proved themselves capable of taking on the best teams in the nation.

The 1953 season came and the fans thought that this was the year for Loyola to really invade the big-time. The Pack, without a home court, won nine out of its first ten games. The big games were yet to come. The New Year came and the Wolves were getting ready for the big LSU contest. Haggerty was not to lead the Pack into the fray; he had fallen ill five days before the game. "Big Jim" McCafferty took over the reins and led the boys to within four points of the highly regarded Tigers.

"Big Jim" went on to finish the season and take the team to the regionals of the NCAA tournament against Notre Dame. With a 15-9 record for the year, it looked as though the Pack had made the big-time at last.

Coach Haggerty is no longer at Loyola. However, he will always be remembered by everyone as a man who was instrumental in putting Loyola in the position it now enjoys.

Coach, may we dedicate this to you in grateful appreciation of what you have done for our Alma Mater; without you, Loyola might not have entered into big-time basketball.

ATHLETIC STAFF

FR. A. C. O'FLYNN, S.J.
Athletic Director

With an athletic staff such as the one at Loyola, it is easy to see why the teams compiled such good records.

Doing a fine job as director of athletics, Fr. O'Flynn has displayed his ability to coordinate the various sparts and to work with the coaches in producing winning teams for Loyola.

Because of Coach Tom Haggerty's sudden illness and subsequent resignation as head basketball coach, "Big Jim" McCafferty was appointed to the head coaching job. The success Coach McCafferty achieved had much to do with the Wolfpack's invitation to the NCAA Tournament. He also did a fine job as track coach.

In turning out a baseball team, Coach Jack Orsley again proved his coaching skill.

The athletic staff is commended for its outstanding achievements.

WOLF PACK

FIRST ROW: Ralph Barnett, Ernie Smith, Bill Calkins, Bob O'Donnell, and Ed Tuohy.
SECOND ROW: Dick Treuting, Ronnie Reynoir, Don Rodriguez, Jim Stack, Bob Conrad, and Chuck Gallmann.
THIRD ROW: Rev. Anthony O'Flynn, S. J., Tom Rouzan, Ed Galvin, Gus Reynoir, Dick Vavrick, Ed Baer, Bob Hanberg, and Coach McCafferty.

Up against their first "big" team of the season, the Pack overpowered a surprised Detroit quintet, 79-63, displaying good form against the Northern team.

With Coach McCafferty at the reins, because of Coach Haggerty's illness and retirement, the Pack took on Tampa University and won, 78-57.

With its newly installed zone defense, a high spirited Wolfpack faced the highly favored LSU. All-American Bob Pettit was held to three field goals and a total of 15 points. However, a weak start allowed the Tigers to gain a big lead. A great battle and a fine exhibition of basketball gave LSU heart failure many times but the Pack was unable to close the gap. The final score was LSU—69, Loyola—65.

After a big letdown, Loyola squeezed by Ham Wernecke and Florida State 80-76. In the next game, Spring Hill emerged in front, scoring a field goal in the waning seconds to win, 84-82. French Quarter Revon enthusiasts visited Hattiesburg to see the little court magician lead the Mississippi Southerners to a 96-86 win, the Pack's third loss of the season.

Loyola opened the 1953-54 basketball season with an impressive victory over Howard College of Birmingham. The second game of the season saw Ronnie Reynoir set an all-time school scoring record by hitting for 35 points against Northeast Louisiana State in a Pack victory, 91-61. Troy State of Alabama fell next to the Pack, 74-45, for the third victory of the campaign. Eddie McCauley's jump shots gave the Wolves a rough time of it in the first half of the SLI game, but the Pack pulled through for their fourth straight, 66-61. The first setback came on the first road game for our men as they fell to Northeast Louisiana State at Monroe, 75-73 in a very close game, which saw the Pack leading almost all the way, only to be overtaken in the closing seconds.

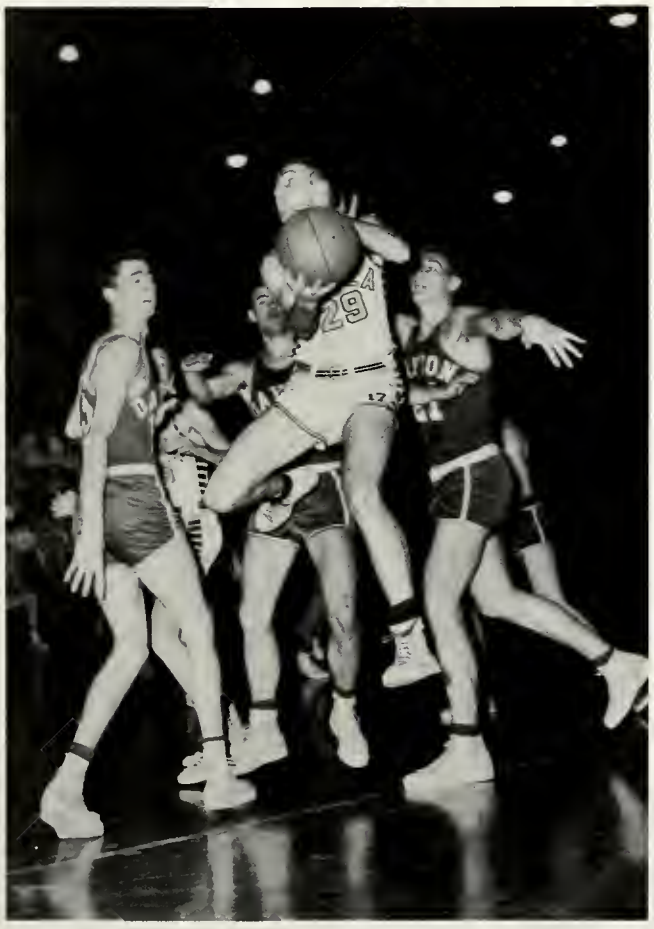
With a 4 and 1 record, the Pack took on Texas Wesleyan of Fort Worth, and won easily, 91-69. Once again on the road, the Wolves encountered SLI and had little trouble in defeating them, 81-67.

East Texas State came into the Pack's "home" gym two days later and the well-coached winners of the NAIA Christmas tournament were set back, 66-60.

Loyola preserved its four-year undefeated record at Fortier gym as it downed the leader of the Gulf States Conference, Northwestern Louisiana, 69-64. Loyola won its biggest game of the season by upsetting the nationally rated Flyers from Dayton, 78-68. Fast, fancy Xavier of Ohio handed Loyola its first home defeat as it downed the Pack, 67-57.

The Pack left for a grueling road trip and moved into Dayton on the first leg. The Flyers, still smarting from the loss suffered in New Orleans, outpointed the Wolves, 78-70, with big Bob Uhl leading the scoring for the Flyers. Revenge was in the eyes of the Pack as they met Xavier on their home court, and the McCaffertymen turned the trick as they won on a last-second field goal by Ronnie Reynoir, 50-49. The team then journeyed to Louisville, where they met a very strong Cardinal quintet, and were defeated 94-77, Louisville sinking 56 percent of its shots in the process.

Back home again, the Pack met the Mississippi Southern quintet in the most exciting game of the season, which saw Bob O'Donnell play cat and mouse for the last two minutes of the game and then sink the winning goal to make the score 78-76. This was the best exhibition of dribbling ever seen on a Loyola court.



After being named the Deep South representative to the NCAA tournament, the Pack suffered its eighth regular loss of the season as Happy Mahfouz and the Spring Hill team squeezed through with a 65-64 win. Fort Wayne, Indiana was the site of the NCAA tournament, which saw Loyola and Notre Dame battle it out in the sectional round, with the Irish coming out on top, 80-70.

Loyola's chances were hurt in the game as Gus Reynoir, Bob Hanberg, Ernie Smith, Ralph Barnett, and Don Rodriguez were ineligible under NCAA rules. Bob O'Donnell was named to the regional NCAA team for his 32-point performance in the game. This contest concluded the season, with the final record standing at 15 wins and 9 losses.

JUNIOR VARSITY

Living up to the reputation of past seasons, the Loyola Wolfpups once again captured the SAAU and the AAU crowns by defeating the Jewish Community Center in the title round of the Southern AAU, 72-71, and by downing the NOAC Juniors in the AAU tourney, 76-62.

Sparking the Wolfpups' fine season was lanky Tony Imbraguglio, the team's leading scorer, who was named to the Southern AAU All-Tourney team.

Sharing equal honors with Imbraguglio were John Broussard, the team's second highest scorer; George Mettler; Don Drez; and Bill Schweiberger.

Although these five were oustanding, all the other members of the squad made valuable contributions to the team's fine record.

BASEBALL

Sporting a record of 13-6, the Pack baseballers again had a fine season, as they continued to display fine fielding and good hitting.

Leading the teom at bat was Lee Boudreaux, with an average of .341, three points better than Tony Chimento, who had a .338 for the season.

Tops among the pitchers was John Spansel, with a won-lost record of 4-1, having pitched a total of 36 1/3 innings. Al Belaire was second with an identical won-lost record, but with three innings less than Spansel.

There were only two seniors on this year's squad, so the picture looks very good for next season. With Coach Orsley getting the cream of the high school ball players, next year should be an even bigger one for the Pack and its followers.

The team does a little celebrating after a well-deserved victory, with Jourdan the hero.

The coach has a pre-game talk with his team captains.

TRACK

When Wolfpack trackmen wan the Sauthern AAU meet late in May, the track team ended its most successful season in the University's history.

Through the season, Jim McCafferty's 22-man team won the "unofficial" titles in the Southern and SLI Relays, won a quadrongular meet from Georgia, Miami ond Georgia Tech, a triangular meet from Alabama and Florida State, and a dual meet with Miss. Southern.

The Sauthern AAU meet was a romp for the talented Wolf runners.

Overall, the Wolves went through the season undefeated and were ranked as the top varsity track team in the Deep South.

Ray Racker, All-American javelin tosser, ended his career with victories in all team competitions and first-places in the Southern and SLI Relays. He was beaten by a single inch for the Penn Relay's championship.

In the national picture, Layala had three trackmen continuously in the top statistics: Rocker, Frank Newman, and Sam Ascani. Racker threw the javelin 206 ft. 4 in. and ranked in the first 10; Newman ran (with wind) a 20.9 (220) which placed him among the first 20; and Ascani jumped aver 24 ft. to be among the leading braad jumpers.

Next year, McCafferty has a hast of returning lettermen and expects to field another fine Wolfpacl track team.

FIRST ROW: Heap, Fuselier, Westenberger, Ascani, Newman, Chauvin, and Moreau.

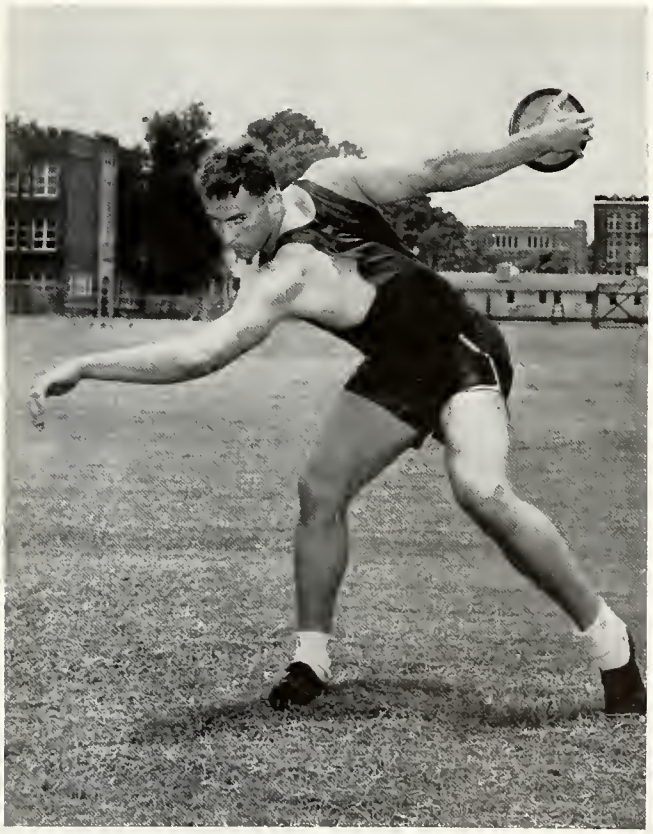
LOYOLA ALL-AMERICAN

This was a great year for Loyola, and especially for Ray Rocker, who was named by the National Collegiate Track Coaches of America to the 1953 All-American Track Team for his performances in the javelin in the NCAA meet. His heave of 211 feet, one inch, rated among the ten best performances last year, won him this award.

Ray, a dental student, was the first weightman in the history of Loyola to win such an award.

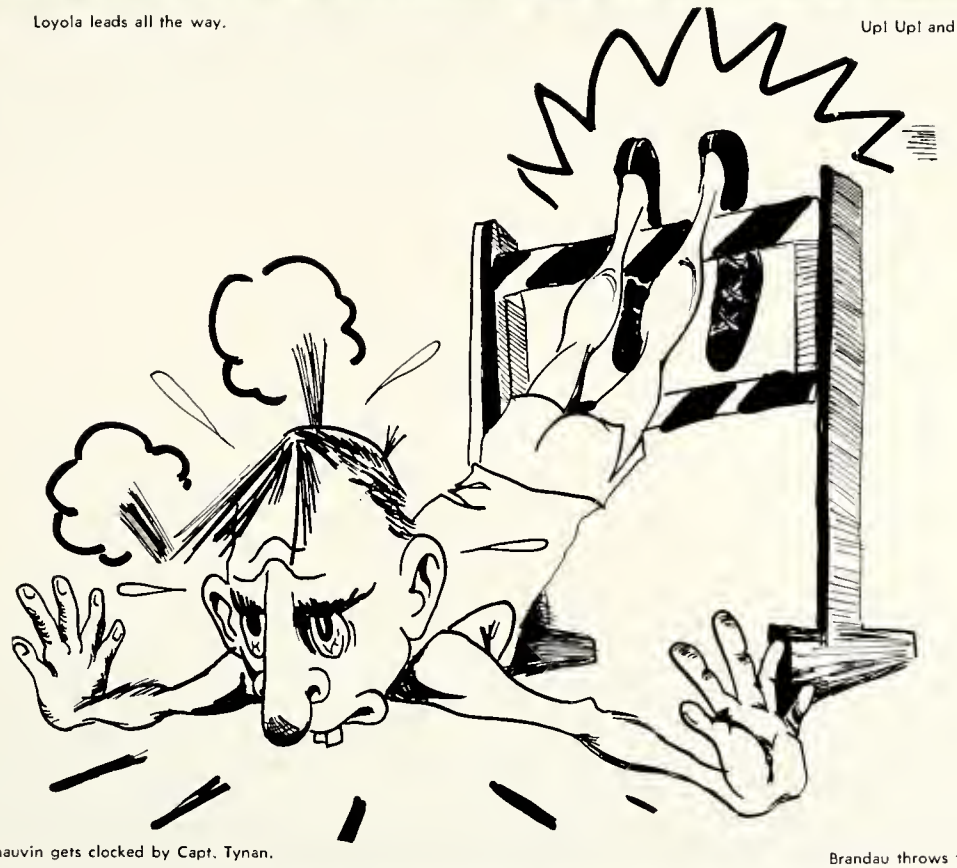
The citation which he received reads: "The All-American Board of the National Collegiate Track Coaches of America, having praised the performances of track and field men throughout the U. S. herewith selects and recognizes Ray Rocker as a member of its 1953 All-American college track and field team for his performance in the javelin.

This honor is a tribute to him, to his coach, and to his school."



Loyola leads all the way.

Up! Up! and away they go.



Chauvin gets clocked by Capt. Tynan.

Brandau throws the shot.

ARCHERY

The 1954 Maroon's archery team cantinued its winning way with victaries in the State and City Championships. Paul Hatrel and Maggie Brignac sparked the team to these two triumphs as they took first place in the men's and women's championships. This is the second year that the team has captured these two crowns. Paul and Maggie were ably supported in both meets by Hank Burch and Odessa Elston. Also contributing to the outstanding efforts of the team were Harold Chauvin, Hap Mendelson, Kay Page, Barbara Shanchez and Sylvia Klien.

TENNIS

Talented Bobby Hanberg, 6-3 blond tennisir from California, ended his four-year career with the Wolfpack net team with nine wins and two losses in individual competition.

Overall, the Loyola team had a 4-7 record. But the losing season was attributed to a definite lack of team depth, several inexperienced players and several injuries during the season.

Highlight of the season on the campus was the appearance of national champion, Tony Trabert, an international star who handed Hanberg one of his two defeats.

Hanberg gained some prestige for the Wolfpack team when he won the Municipal singles championship late in May, beating Dave Brown, one of New Orleans' top netters.

TENNIS TEAM: Johnny Fernandez, George Frilot, Bobby Hanberg, Tony Fernandez and Francis Miranda. Missing from picture: Lathan Garcia and Charlie Jeanfreau.

DANCE

The 1954 Wolf

This is the 1954 Wolf. We hope you will enjoy it as much as we enjoyed putting it together for you.

To us The Wolf means more than just a pictorial account of an academic year; it means days and nights of hard work. If the book satisfies you, however, we will consider ourselves liberally repaid.

We sincerely hope that in editing The Wolf we have captured your University life, for this was intended to be your book. It does not belong to us, the staff. We merely put it together for you. If you are able in future years to turn to these pages and remember some of the happiest days of your life, those you spent at Loyola, then we have achieved our aim. The new faces, those of the freshmen on the campus, the activities of organizations and fraternities with all of their parties and fun, the Campus Court, the Talent Night, the basketball games, the Forums, the Carol Singing, the Sophomore Cotillion, the Annual Award Night, the most cherished moment in a college student's career, graduation as a Senior: all of these, and many more significant events, are recorded in this The 1954 Wolf, so that in future years you may turn to it and reminisce of days gone by.

In order to present the faculty and students of Loyola a book worthy of the University it pictures, the staff worked untiringly. They have all contributed in their own way to make this publication possible, and to them I am truly grateful.

There are others who, though not on the staff, have contributed to the production of The Wolf. Without them the job would have been impossible. I would like to extend my deepest gratitude

. . . . . to Fr. Toomey, our moderator, for his helpfulness and understanding,

. . . . . to Russ Cresson, University photographer, for his excellent photographs, good advice and helpfulness,

. . . . . to the President of the University,

. . . . . to the Deans and Regents of all of Loyola's Schools and Colleges,

. . . . . to all of these and to any others who have contributed throughout the year to the success of The 1954 Wolf, I again say "Thank You."

Evangeline Molero
Editor, 1954 Wolf.
